Tale Of Bravery Comes From Far-Off Dawson

Mrs. Tom Kirk, Simcoe St., recently received a copy of the Dawson Weekly News in which there was report of an award for bravery being presented to Mrs. E. A. Kirk, her daughter-in-law. Mrs. Kirk's son is a corporal in the R.C.M.P. and is stationed at Old Crow in the northern section of Yukon.

The son of the late Tom Kirk, former police chief in Newmarket, Cpl. Kirk has been in the R.C.M.P. for 21 years, most of them spent in northern Canada. His wife is a former school teacher.

According to the report in the Dawson News, which carries the heading of "The British Empire's Farthest North Newspaper," on Dec. 13, 1943, a small native lad was attacked by dogs and was being badly mauled when Mrs. Kirk seized a club and beat the dogs off, saving the lad. Recently, Mrs. Kirk was awarded an honorary testimonial from the Royal Canadian Humane Society for bravery.

The presentation was made in the Dawson community hall.

Mrs. Kirk was a New Westminster, B.C., girl who went north in 1935 to marry Cpl. Kirk. At the present time, according to letters received by Mrs. Kirk, she is acting as nurse for the territory where her husband is stationed.

ALBERT STARR LONG DEALER ON MAIN ST.

Albert Edward Starr, who died Aug. 27, was the son of Francis and Mary (Cody) Starr. He was born at Bogartown on Sept. 3, 1870, and spent most of his life in that community, moving to Newmarket about 25 years ago. For over 18 years, he was manager of the Newmarket Farmers' Co-operative, and about seven years ago, he started a small feed business of his own. He retired over a year ago.

He was a life-long, birthright member of the Society of Friends (Quakers). As a young man, interested in Sunday-school work, he was for many years a teacher of Young People's and Bible classes in Bogartown Union Sunday-school. He was secretary of Whitechurch township S.S. Association for several years.

On Nov. 11, 1897, he married Florence E. Willoughby of Toronto, with whom he lived happily nearly half a century. He was a man of sterling character, straight-forward and honest in all his dealings, as is manifested by the following, from an editorial by the late J. D. McKay of The Newmarket Express, written about 30 years ago: "Too seldom now do we hear it said of a man that his word is as good as his bond, but there are still such men in our midst, and Albert E. Starr is one of them."

The funeral service was held at 2 p.m., Aug. 30, at the chapel of Roadhouse and Rose, and was conducted by Rev. L. E. Sparks. The pallbearers were G. Wesley Williams and D. W. Evans of Bogartown, Fred Chantler, Alex. Hill, Wilfred Travis and William Mino of Newmarket.

Burial was in Newmarket cemetery.

Surviving are his widow, two sisters, Mrs. J. J. Outland (Hannah), Media, Penn., U.S.A., and Mrs. J. D. Rowland (Elizabeth), Newmarket, and a number of nieces and nephews. Attending the funeral from a distance were his sister, Mrs. Outland, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Hawtin, Beaverton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard M. Stark, Arkell, Miss Irene W. Rudd and Mrs. Reginald Rudd, Guelph, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hart, and Miss Ethel Skinner, Toronto.

LEGION SEEKS BEST 18 MOS. CHILD IN YORK

Has Newmarket the healthiest baby? That's what the Newmarket branch of the Canadian Legion is determined to find out at a contest to discover the healthiest baby in York county at the legion carnival in the drill hall at the Newmarket fair grounds Sept. 11. Age limit is 18 months.

Rumors from nearby communities insist that Newmarket hasn't a chance. So, whether you advocate the one-pin or two-pin technique, bring along your infant on Sept. 11 and help make the legion show a howling success.

According to Dr. J. Gordon Cook, the details are almost complete for the first baby show in Newmarket's history. Judging will begin at 6 p.m. sharp in a heated hut close to the drill hall so that there will be no chance of the babies catching cold. Only two adults may accompany each entry into the judging booth but the winners will be briefly displayed to the crowd in the drill hall at 7:30 p.m.

There will be prizes for each entry with merchandise awards for the winners. Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales will present a silver cup to the winner of the first prize. Dr. Dales wistfully recalls some champions he has escorted into the world but insists that he is still doing as well as he ever did.

Entries can only be accepted up to 18 months so that members of the legion can enter the competition. It is said that some of the returned lads are quite convinced that their spartan fare of bully beef and V. will pay dividends and show up those eaters of steak and apple pie a la mode. So that the judging will be completely impartial, doctors from the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, will decide the winners. Entries must be in by Saturday night to either Wm. LaParde, R. R. 2, Newmarket, or Dr. Cook, Newmarket.

The baby contest is only one of the features of the evening of entertainment being planned by the Newmarket Legion branch at the drill hall Sept. 11. The drill hall is being swept clean and freshly decorated for the occasion. Besides dancing, there will be games and feature acts. A baseball match will start the ball rolling at the fair grounds.

Newmarket Juniors Defeat Stouffville, Enter Second Round

By GEORGE HASKETT
Staging a ninth-inning rally that netted them three runs, Newmarket juniors came through with a 12-11 win last Saturday afternoon. It was the second game of the two-out-of-three game series in the first round of the O.B.A. playdowns. The game was played at Stouffville Memorial Park. The victory moved the Newmarket team into the second round of the Ontario Baseball Association playdowns and eliminated the Stouffville juniors from further competition.

RATION BOOKS TO BE ISSUED AT TOWN HALL

Ration book No. 6 will be distributed in Newmarket September 12, 13 and 14 in the town hall. All ration book holders are urged to secure their new books during this period as no further distribution will take place until after September 30. Latecomers who failed to get their books between September 9 and 16 will be without ration coupons during the intervening two weeks.

Ration administration officials point out that book holders must bring their old ration books when applying for book No. 6. The green card marked RB-191 in the old ration book must be filled in and the book presented intact when applying for the new book. Ration book holders are urged not to remove the green card from the old books before presenting them at the distribution centre.

People who have lost their ration books and are waiting for the new No. 6 book to be issued, will be out of luck when they present themselves at the distribution centre. Without the card, RB-191, a new ration book cannot be issued except with a legal affidavit presented to a W.P.T.B. branch of sent to a W.P.T.B. branch office of the ration administration at Aurora.

Tommy Dales worked on the mound for the canaltown until the seventh when Ken Broughton took over. Fred Spelman was on the mound for Manager Lewis' Stouffville squad.

Stouffville entered a protest with the Ontario Baseball Association claiming that Gar Doolittle had kicked the ball in his turn at bat in the ninth. The O.B.A. executive however disallowed the protest and Newmarket now move into the second round of the O.B.A.

Latest information is that the Redmen will go against either Meaford or Bowmanville in the next round, with the first game possibly in Newmarket this Saturday afternoon.

Vets Bow To New Toronto In Two Games, 5-0, 10-0

By ORVILLE GANTON
New Toronto decisively eliminated Newmarket Veterans from the O.A.S.A. play-offs in two straight games by scores of 5-0 and 10-0 over the weekend. In Toronto on Saturday, Joe Natavory, Natavory they dubbed him, and Bill VanZant engaged in a duel that carried the teams in a dizzy pace to romp through nine innings in one hour and five minutes. New Toronto tallied five runs on six hits, a sacrifice, and three errors. Newmarket collected five hits; Mair had three and Smith and Gibney one each. However, Natavory bore down in the pinches to leave eight runners stranded on the bases.

In the return game here Monday, the Veterans put on a burlesque of errors and were never in the hunt. Natavory with a stance like a boxer flipped third strikes by our batters in monotonous repetition. Aside from Scotty Mair, our team looked woefully weak at the plate all through the series. Harvey Gibney uncorked one hit that almost broke the long string of goose eggs but Miller made a spectacular play to hold him to a double. Our infield, which has played air-tight ball all season, fell completely apart in the early innings.

Without attempting to nullify the Lakeshore's splendid victory, the Vets were way off their game here. New Toronto has a well balanced club. Their battery of Natavory and Romnick is one of the best to ever show here. Wilson at third and Johnston at first are polished fielders with dynamite in their bats. Wilson scooped up hits all over the infield and poured them to first from any angle. They now meet Orillia, O.A.S.A. champions, in the next round. Conventer Doug Smith and Umpires Caruthers and Forhan handled the series efficiently.

U.S.A. TAKES STRONGER STAND

The daily press last week reflected not a world settling to the ways of peace but a world gearing itself for another war. From Texas came a report of the formation of an atom-bomb carrying airplane squadron. A Russian scientist is said to have announced plans for atom-bomb and rocket experiments in that country. In Denmark, what is believed to have been an experimental rocket crashed on the outskirts of a village. For some weeks, Sweden has reported rocket missiles over its territory.

The official attitude of the United States has often served as a barometer of hope in world affairs. Last week the glass was falling. United States secretary of state, James Byrnes, echoed by others in official position, warned that the United States must maintain large defensive forces. There was no evidence of the hoped for international security in his remarks.

These are not the headlines that were anticipated a year after the defeat of the Axis powers, but they do reflect a simple truth: the defeat of the Axis did not resolve the conflict between democracies and the police states, between freedom of the individual and subordination of the individual to the state. The conflict continues at the council table in Paris and in every nation where communists exist in large numbers. Russia is attempting the domination of Europe by every method in the book, and a lot that aren't. A communist Europe is, however, a threat to England and the United States. The incompatibilities between the Anglo-American and Russian ways of life make supremacy of one dangerous to the other. A Russian-dominated Europe would result in war.

In recent weeks, there has been a change in the policy of compromise which has been practised by the United States in favor of Russia, and which has encouraged Russian expansion. Evidence of the new policy was clearly seen last week in the protest regarding Polish elections, the rejection of Russian demands regarding the Dardanelles, and in the ultimatum sent to Yugoslavia following the attacks on U.S. transport planes.

The communist government in Poland was warned that the United States would not tolerate anything less than elections as they are conducted in a truly democratic country. In an earlier referendum, parties in opposition to the communists had been suppressed. The Russian demand for a share in the control of the Dardanelles with its implications of fortifications on Turkish soil was rejected by the United States. The Russian plan would have made Turkey another satellite and ensured Russian control of the vital waterway.

But it was United States action in the destruction of American planes over Yugoslavia that best indicated how far the United States was prepared to go to bat against Russia in Europe. The Russian-dominated Yugoslavs want the port of Trieste, now under Anglo-American authority. Outside Trieste, according to news reports, are massed 20 Yugoslav divisions. In its ultimatum to Marshal Tito, the United States was also serving notice to his Russian sponsor that it would not tolerate interference with its authority in Europe, and that a coup to seize Trieste could easily mean war with United States.

RUMORS CAN BE HARMFUL

In the May issue of the Magazine Digest, there was an article about a man named in the story as Whitey Miller who had made a tidy fortune by rumor-mongering. For a price, Whitey will peddle rumors and assisted by thousands of willing gossips blanket the country with his product in six weeks.

Here is an example of how Whitey works. A candy manufacturer wanted to discredit a rival's product. He went to Whitey who sent out pairs of girls to the candy counters in 20 major United States cities. One girl would order a box of the rival's candy but as she did so, the other girl would exclaim in a loud voice that her brother had learned from a sanitary inspector that the rival used paraffin to fill up his candy. Sales of the rival dropped as the story spread and Whitey collected for services rendered.

There is no Whitey Miller in Newmarket to the best of our knowledge but from the way rumor spreads here, all the evidence of his handiwork is present. Last week, for example, Newmarket was swept by the rumor that a severe case of infantile paralysis had been located in town. Despite the denial of the medical officer of health, Dr. J. H. Wesley, the rumor persists.

Part of the charm of a small community is in its friendliness and close contact. Everyone knows everyone else and a stranger in town is spotted in a half-hour. Inside of a week, his life history is known to all. Yet the same talent for retelling information that makes this friendliness can also bring harm and needless concern. We wonder if anyone who passed on the rumor about infantile paralysis stopped to think of the worry it caused parents?

It's a pleasant sight to see two housewives drop their work for the moment to exchange the news over the back fence. It is as much a part of the town as the buildings on Main St. to have a pair of oldsters sunning themselves and passing on the latest in county politics on the bench in front of the Trinity United church. No one would want to make an end to those things. Just remember, stop a moment the next time you hear a rumor and decide whether or not it is going to hurt anyone before passing it on.

BROADCASTING FROM THE MOON

There is nothing like progress to engender more progress. Now that scientists have successfully bounced radio waves off the moon, the latest step is plans for installing a broadcasting station on the moon itself, according to recent news reports. The equipment will be sent to the moon via rocket and it is to be presumed that the announcer will follow as soon as some means of keeping him alive are found.

Such a venture suggests speculation on the commercial advantages of radio station MOON. It would provide sure-fire advertising for makers of products bearing trade names like Star Dust or Moon Glow. The advertising time would be snapped up by manufacturers of perfume and face-powder and other beauty aids before you could say the "cow jumped over the moon," backwards. The association of ideas would be an advertising agency's dream.

THE ATOM BOMB IS NOT THE ONLY WAY

We heaved a sigh of relief upon reading a recent news item to the effect that there are at least five different ways by which the world may be destroyed apart from our own suicidal tendencies with the atom bomb. The fact that we will have three months' notice of destruction by these five different methods is also encouraging. Our own methods of destruction are no longer providing any leeway for setting our affairs in order.

Mr. Gordon A. Atwater, chairman and curator at the Hayden planetarium in New York city, lists these possibilities: 1. A collision between the sun and a star. Mr. Atwater says that this might not result in immediate destruction of the world but such a collision would upset the solar system, jerking the world from its present orbit causing all life to perish.

2. A collision between the sun and a comet or between the earth and a comet's tail.

3. A sudden flare-up of the sun. As Mr. Atwater says, "we are only a 93,000,000 miles from the sun, just a hop-skip and a jump. We would be all burned up."

4. The sun may burn out and in that case, "we would all freeze."

5. A collision between the earth and the moon.

Well there you are. Five possible ways to destruction and none of them remotely concerned with atom-busting. According to the news item, people nearly leap out of their chairs when they learn these facts. "It really scares some of them," says Mr. Atwater.

We don't see why it should. After all, the universe has been trundling along in its own way for the last several aeons. With all this monkey business with atoms, we should be developing a set of nerves inured to this talk of sudden death. The threat of destruction at our own hands seems far more the likelihood than a little matter like a collision with the moon.

What Others Think

TRIALS OF A MINISTER

(Ottawa Evening Citizen)

One of the hardest jobs in Canada today is that held by the minister of labor. It is being made harder by the barrage of unjust criticism under which he must work.

This was shown recently in Mr. Humphrey Mitchell's evidence before the industrial relations committee. "I find," he said, "that whenever it suits the purpose of a particular union, a prompt attempt will be made to bring about what I can best describe as organized criticism of my actions." He then told of receiving floods of telegrams, many of them in almost identical terms, from unions all over the country and all denouncing him for something or other.

Many public men trying to do their duty will know all about such telegrams. Filled with "demands" and vilification, they reflect little credit upon the senders; and the repetitious flow serves no practical purpose except to increase the revenues of the telegraph companies.

One such case was cited by the minister. In an effort to avert a costly strike in the rubber industry, he had mailed to each employee a copy of the conciliation board's report and had advised them to accept its recommendations. Somebody got busy, and he was assailed from all parts of the country for this action. He was accused of trying to break up the unions. He should not have dealt with the rubber employees except through the union officials.

The truth, stated the minister, was that his course of action had been previously discussed at a meeting with the union's officials and Mr. Pat Conroy, secretary of the Canadian Congress of Labor, and fully concurred in by them.

Not long ago Mr. Conroy undertook to give the minister a lecture on moral stamina. "It takes more courage to face the facts," he said, "than to run away from them as the minister has been doing." But running away does not appear to be a habit with Humphrey Mitchell. This was made clear recently in his evidence on wage control.

Rightly or wrongly—and the great majority of Canadian people will say rightly—the labor minister for some years has stoutly maintained that price control is not possible without a reasonable measure of wage control. During the war years he played a leading part in setting up the wages boards throughout the country, to see that wages did not rise to levels that might force rises in prices.

A life-long trade unionist himself, it takes some moral courage on the part of the minister of labor to maintain wage control now that the war is over. But he is convinced that it will be necessary for some time yet if the dollar in the worker's pay envelope is to be expected to buy more than 50 cents' worth of goods. Holding that conviction, there seems to be little likelihood that he will be stampeded by telegrams, resolutions, innuendo and plain abuse into taking any conciliatory course.

When the present industrial tumult and shouting dies, the Hon. Humphrey Mitchell may then be accorded his due as a better and more long-sighted friend of the workers than those little sawdust Caesars who are now so active in sniping at him.

THE COMMON ROUND

By ISABEL INGLIS COLVILLE

THIS WONDER WORLD

I have been sitting here watching the world go by—or at any rate a section of it. Twenty-five years ago if five or six cars passed in a day, we felt that the world was coming to our doors. Now, over the weekend, hundreds pass in an hour and I think if I were a person addicted to betting, it would pay me to wager that nearly every make of car travels this highway.

There are cars whose age could always be counted by their knocks; there are cars that look as if they were held together by some magic of alchemy; there are colors startling and colors subdued; there are cars bursting with children, luggage and usually a dog, hanging out of a window; and there are aloof, stream-lined models with one superior gentleman, usually smoking a large, fragrant, and expensive cigar, and riding in solitary state. They are all going somewhere as fast as their various means of locomotion will permit, and what their destination — if any — is left to the imagination.

Babies sleep in cars as happy as on their own little beds, but it isn't every car that goes through Newmarket with a kitten, small and screaming and adorned with a pink ribbon, hanging by its tail from a car door.

This phenomenon was witnessed by the Arthur Starrs who took after the car and brought the kitten's plight to the driver who hadn't even known the poor pussy was in the car.

It was an old saying that "bad news travelled fast," but nowadays if any important person in Asia or Africa took a cold or sneezed in the night, we in our far off land would be acquainted with the sad fact in the morning.

And, although I suppose in this wonder-world there is more money in people's pockets than ever before, yet, for less money than ever before, we can attain what was once the unattainable. I am thinking, at the moment, of opera — grand opera. At one time, unless one had heaps of money and could visit the Metropolitan Opera House in New York, one could not hear, much less see the fabulous artists of the music world. Later, if we could afford them, we could hear a few fine recordings, but although hearing was something to be thankful for, one wanted sight, for even imagination failed when it tried to compass the glorious spectacles which formed the background for equally glorious voices. Now all is changed. The other evening, the other half of the family and I heard and saw Lauritz Melchior in opera, and for once blessed sound films with a great blessing. I think one thing which is causing discontent, crime, and general unhappiness is that we have ceased to wonder, ceased to feel the awe that every new fact, wrested by science from earth and air, should awaken in us. We see people travelling about in the air, on the land, on and under the sea; the bounty of the tropics is brought to our doors in a matter of hours, labor-saving devices flood our markets, and a trip to the moon is even a possibility. I read once, by the way, that the moon is only an electric photograph of a former planet! And the universe continues on its stately, marvellous — how marvellous — way, and we accept it all as a matter of course; nor ever or hardly ever, give pause to thank the Creator of it that we are spared all the dreadful things which could happen where myriads of worlds revolve in space. In my poor and humble opinion, lack of thankfulness as well as the love of money, is the root of all evil.

DEW

By GOLDEN GLOW

Did you, ever stop to think about dew, or are you like me, you just take it for granted? Some mornings the grass is wet with dew. Other days, we have none at all, and do we ever stop long enough in our mad rush to "start the day right" to ask ourselves why? Why do we have it some mornings, and why not on other days?

It is a common saying "Oh it won't rain today, we had such a heavy dew." Maybe you'll be out on a bright starlight night and you'll feel the dampness all around you, and someone will say "I think I'll pull on my sweater coat, I feel the dew falling," or you'll be out on a cloudy evening and feel no dampness at all.

There's something in the back of my mind, I think it must be the line of a hymn but I can't seem to grasp it, and I can't take the time to hunt through the hymn book. "Sweetly distills like morning dew." Is that it? I can't seem to recall any more. Well that little bit is picturesque for the moisture in the air does distil and form the moisture we call dew drops.

Nature has provided for all growing things, for even the smallest blade of grass is coated with dew. I wonder what the dictionary says about dew. I'll take time to look, no wait a minute until I consult "Webster's unabridged." Maybe Daniel Webster can throw some light on the subject. DEW. Here we are. Hold your breath, or maybe you had better draw a good long deep one. "Dew, n. Aqueous vapor condensed from the atmosphere and deposited in small drops at evening; that which falls lightly and in a refreshing manner." Well I'm afraid that doesn't help much. So where shall I turn next—or shall I bother my head about it?

Somehow all these hidden forces of nature fascinate us, as the Scripture says, "It is marvellous in our eyes." Why there—now I know where to look, for there are heaps of verses in the Bible speaking of dew. Suppose I look up a few for we all delight in their familiar everyday demonstrations of divine power and care for us poor human beings. Who has not been intrigued, going out in the early morning before the sun gets up, to see dewy fairy cobwebs on the grass and we say it is the dew. We like to think fairy fingers have been at work during the hours of darkness to make the world beautiful and attractive after our long, dark night. Well—how queer—I did not know my mind was still working on that line of the hymn I could not recall, and all of a sudden I found myself saying: "Come as the dew and sweetly, bless This consecrated hour." How odd it is that our subconscious mind goes on working like that. Well, why look up the different texts? If anyone else, besides me, is interested they will like to do it themselves.

Sometimes you think you'll do a bit of gardening, and if you are not shod properly, you will certainly have wet feet, for the dew can be as wet as a shower of rain. You will see the cut grass clinging to the blades of the lawn mower and maybe you won't appreciate the dew when you have to stop several times to clear it away.

But the beauty of the dew is beyond everything in the early morning, making the world a delightful place in which to live. So fresh and so clean! They say there is no complexion beautifier so good as to wash the face in morning dew. I wonder if that wasn't just a cute little trick of our elders to get us up early in the morning.

I wish somebody would write a little article on dew, for you can see I don't know the first thing about it. So I'd better "evaporate," or in other words "dry up" — like the dew when the sunshine gets to work on it.

VOICES OF THE HIGHWAYS

By J. JAY WATSON

As we look on the highways we see a great variety of cars bowling along. Years come and go, and in the multiplying decades we see unending improvements in the cars, as well as wider and better highways. Then at varying intervals we come upon service stations where the cars may be supplied with fuel.

We know there have always been highways of thought, and like our road highways, they vary in a great variety of ways. In Bible times, the noble characters we read of in the Old and the New Testaments were as perpetual service stations, serving their God, their generation, and the ages to come.

Just as the road highways are improved through the years, and the use of them multiplies, so should the highways of thought given to us in the Bible by the great prophets and seers be cultivated — for their cultivation brings rhythm to life and songs to the heart.

The cars on the highways are means of communication, means of achieving contact; so are the Bible thoughts means of communication, serving to acquaint the generations of today and of the tomorrows with the thoughts voiced by the early Hebrews, as God revealed Himself to them.

Physical vision discloses untold beauties, which day by day are unfolded before us. Hungering and thirsting, in humbleness of spirit for the principle of "purpose" will reveal untold and real beauties and values to be experienced along the highways of life.

As flowers yield honey to the honey bee, so can the student and observer of voices of the highways of thought in the Book of Life experience vision, and gather his mite of distilled honey of thought, to the end that he may contribute even a small measure to service and happiness in life.

"Days should speak, and multitude of years should teach wisdom." Job XXXII.

THE ANSWER IS YES

Report On Recreation

Starting July 9, 1946, and carrying on for six weeks, the recreation council sponsored a swimming program for children from 5-14 years, taking them down to Wilcox Lake by Gray Coach in three groups a day, three days a week. There were 433 different children who took part, making a total of 2,100 pupil-trips. The total cost, including an allowance for co-ordinator's time, was $1,021.60 which was 48.8 cents per pupil trip or $2.38 per child for the summer.

Staff

The program was under the active direction of the co-ordinator, E. R. Mather, assisted by Mrs. David Neufeldt, Audrey Rowland and Barney Westcott. Ivo Ramm acted as dispatcher and Arlene McTavish acted as escort. The four swimming instructors were given an excellent and extremely valuable course in water safety and instruction by the Red Cross, financed by the Newmarket branch. Various young people voluntarily assisted the program, acting as look-outs, instructors and odd-job men. Staff meetings were held weekly throughout the summer.

Program

Program followed at the beach was to divide the group into three or four classes, provide 20 minutes of instruction and the remainder of the time, about half an hour, at play, all classes having been brought together again and watched by at least three instructors.

This group was called out of the water and made ready by the time the bus arrived with the next class.

Swimmers

It was originally intended that this project should be a learn-to-swim program, but upon analysis it is discovered to have been something different. Thirty swimmers passed standard Red Cross tests and another 75 progressed very favorably.

Joy-Riders

Although the average was approximately five trips per pupil, half of the group took only three trips or less. One quarter of the whole group attended eight times or more and this class of 100 or so was the group that made regular progress. For the remainder then, the program provided an opportunity to get down in the sun, air and water and enjoy themselves, without putting too much strain on their learning capacities. The irregular and varying attendance of these children, however, made it difficult to accomplish a great deal in the way of continuing instruction.

Attendance

It is satisfying to note that from a total of 273 the first week, the attendance continuously increased to 452 in the fifth week. A drop of 35 per cent in the sixth week occurred similarly at the Lions' playground and may therefore be considered as due to outside factors: possibly the "polio" rumor.

From the efficiency point of view, the program was a numerical success as the busses averaged 40 pupils per trip.

Safety

There was at no time a dangerous accident nor even a close call. The beach itself slopes gradually, swim areas were well defined and at all times thoroughly supervised. Most of the near tragedies consisted of small persons losing a sock or being unable to untie their shoe laces.

Acknowledgments

Thanks are due to the National Red Cross who aided in setting up our program and who provided standards for operation and achievement; also to the Newmarket branch which financed the instructors' course and the swimmers' crests and awards.

We owe much to Percy Ash of Wilcox Lake who, providing us with locker, changing, bench, dock and boating facilities, and any other assistance we desired, asked that these be considered his contribution to Newmarket's recreation program.

Also to the several volunteers, Kay Matthews, Ted Arthur, Ted Taylor, Ian Brown, Don Gibson, who made our work much easier and pleasanter.

Recommendations

1. That a swimming program be carried on again next summer.
2. That if the program is continued at Wilcox Lake, better dock facilities be added and extensive life saving equipment bought; that much the same arrangement be used for transportation and administration.
3. That since $738 out of the total was for transportation and out of leadership costs, approximately $85 was due to supervision and administration for transportation, it would be profitable from the point of view of these 433 children alone to consider some plan whereby a pool might be built in Newmarket and this total of $823 applied annually to the cost of that pool.

On July 29 two playgrounds began operation under the sponsorship of the recreation council. The purpose of these playgrounds was to supplement the program carried on by the Lions Club, by providing a play space for smaller children from the ages of 3-6 who were unable to cover the distance to the park.

The playgrounds at St. John's school and at Alexander Muir school were supervised five days a week, from 9.30 to 11.30 a.m. and from 2 to 4.30 p.m. Attendance at each averaged about ten per period with an overall figure of 700 child periods for the four weeks. Approximately 25 different children took part at each play lot. Cost of operation may be broken into two figures, $88 for leadership and $70 for maintenance and supplies—this is approximately 12 cents per child per period for leadership and ten cents for material.

Activities consisted mainly of sand play and organized games of story telling and singing. Some special events were doll and toy shows, treasure hunts and a picnic.

Equipment was very limited, consisting mainly of sand boxes, Alexander Muir had the use of swings and teeters but these were too large for the children. Toilet facilities at both schools were open to the children. On cold and rainy days the leader at St. John's took advantage of the offer to make use of the classrooms and hold some indoor activities and games. At Alexander Muir some use was made of material and equipment from the class rooms. Both school boards are to be sincerely thanked for their kindness and co-operation.

The program as a whole cannot be considered a success although that at St. John's can be classed as fair. Nevertheless it is only fair to attempt the same project next summer. Early planning should help considerably—a committee might be appointed early in the year to guide the whole project. More apparatus should be obtained early, such as small swings, teeters, slides and small tables and benches, along with supplies for simple arts and crafts projects. Leaders should be chosen early and given a fairly intensive series of lectures and activity classes.

It is almost certain that with more advanced planning and better leadership from the top down, these supplementary playgrounds can become very successful projects, and I would recommend that next year be looked upon as the experimental year.

Let Them Choose Their Own Playmates

Tom, 14, and Harry, 13, are brothers yet no two boys could be more different. Tom is the rugged, athletic type with a healthy appetite. Harry has a keen mind but is frail physically, with no zest for strenuous activity and little interest in food.

Before Tom and Harry started to school, their parents had fed hopes of the brothers becoming real pals. They took them places together and arranged for them to be almost constant companions, though they never succeeded in making them congenial companions. Tom would take advantage of his superior physical strength every once in a while to prove a point and Harry would retaliate by yelling much louder than was warranted and leave mother or father to settle the score for him. An intense dislike for each other was developing because an ill-suited companionship was forced upon them.

After the boys started to school, they found more suitable companions than they had been to each other. In place of the dislike they felt for each other during their too close and limited association, a definite respect for the other was developed. Harry is very proud to have a brother like Tom, who is so popular at sports; and Tom is equally proud of Harry, who is so smart at school. Harry takes his friends to watch Tom and Tom brings his friends to Harry when they need help with their studies.

Children should not be forced to play together even within their own family circle. But should have freedom to choose friends among a variety of children for the best development of their special talents.

World Hog Population

It has been reliably estimated that the number of hogs in the world has been reduced by war to only 87% of pre-war numbers.

At the same time the hog population of Canada is considerably heavier than it was in 1939 in spite of the fact that there has been a considerable liquidation of breeding stock in some parts of Canada during the past year.

These facts put Canada in an excellent position to

"Hired Man" Who Lives Out

YES, there is a "hired man" who eats and sleeps out, asking no monthly wage. We refer to your agricultural college, your experimental farm.

This "hired man" is brainy; provides correct answers to difficult farm problems; knows what is happening in agriculture generally... why certain farmers are so successful, year after year; and is willing to help you get more from your land.

Prosperous farmers make regular use of the up-to-date information obtainable from agricultural colleges and experimental farms—and also of the helpful money service offered by this Bank. Our managers, for over 90 years, have had a well-earned reputation for friendliness, common sense and co-operation.

MAGISTRATE'S COURT 60 Days Hard Labor Penalty In Car Charge

Wm. Duckenworth, Mount Dennis, was sentenced to 60 days hard labor on a charge of taking a car without consent of the owner by Magistrate W. E. Woodliffe in Newmarket magistrate's court on Friday.

Duckenworth was charged with his brother, Earl, of stealing a car in Schomberg, the property of Wm. Breedon, but Magistrate Woodliffe reduced the charge to that of taking a car without the owner's consent. Irwin Hollingshead, Schomberg, said he was sitting on the verandah of his home when he saw the two boys walking down the street. He said they appeared to be a little the worse for drink and looked into several cars. He said he saw Wm. Duckenworth get into Breedon's car and drive off, later picking up his brother and then proceeding south.

Breedon stated his car was a 1930 Model A Ford and was taken from the place where he had left it. He said when the car was found it was in an upright position and the body of the car was badly damaged. Crown Attorney Arleigh Armstrong produced a picture of the damaged car taken by Constable Gus Farquhar of Schomberg.

Constable Farquhar said he was called by Hollingshead on Aug. 24. He said he followed the car up the street and when he arrived at the spot where the car had crashed the boys had been taken out of the car by others who had arrived earlier.

Earl Duckenworth, who pleaded not guilty to the charge, said he was so drunk he didn't know what happened. He said a storekeeper in Schomberg had given him and his brother the liquor. He stated he didn't know what happened until he came to in the police station in Newmarket.

Mrs. Duckenworth, mother of the two boys, said the storekeeper came to their home in Mount Dennis with the whiskey and she had put him out.

The charge against Earl Duckenworth was dismissed.

Jack Edward Nunedorf, Toronto, pleaded not guilty to a charge of dangerous driving and the charge was reduced to that of careless driving. He was fined $15 and costs.

Constable William O'Neil of Whitechurch township said that on Aug. 4 he was parked off the highway when a car swerved and just missed his car. He said there was a man on the side of the car swinging his foot and arm and the car was proceeding in a zig-zag manner. He said that Nunedorf's car met two other cars which barely missed him and then turned off on to a a lot in common... both have grown at a breath-taking pace. And a switchboard is even harder to get than a new suit for Junior. That, in brief, is why the operator is often unable to answer you promptly.

Equipment is being added just as fast as the supply situation will permit. But complicated things like switchboards take time to build and install, even when you're as impatient as we are to restore telephone service to peak efficiency. # Resident Complains 'Obnoxious Odors' From Collis Plant

Tuesday evening saw Aurora town council receive three complaints from local residents. George Holloway of George St. wrote complaining of "the obnoxious odors" emanating from the plant of the Collis Leather Company. "During the past several weeks the condition has become intolerable and it has been impossible for us to have a window open day or night. Do any of you consider the condition conducive to the health of the municipality?" he wrote. Mr. Holloway said he knew his complaint was similar to that of other residents.

"I had one woman complain to me that she had to do her washing over because of the rancid smell it had from the tannery odors," said Councillor Stewart Patrick.

"There have been many complaints in the past, but this year it is much worse," said Mayor Ross Linton.

"If we have a tannery we must have some smell, I suppose," said Councillor A. N. Fisher. "The industry has been here a long while. People buying property or building in that section of the town know the situation beforehand. I suggest we send a copy of every complaint received to the company."

"Send one to the M.O.H. too," said Councillor Rod. Smith. Council agreed to the two suggestions and left the matter at that.

Mr. and Mrs. George Miller, Gurnett St., wrote complaining of damage caused by last month's flood. They thought

Council Hears Plans For Housing For Veterans

No lands are available at the present time to be given to war veterans by the town. Two requests are on file, and as soon as more are received, the Aurora town council is going to consider either purchasing a block of land to be used for such purposes or to aid the veterans in some other way so that those who have already received lots will not be preferred over other applicants.

"Lots are not much good unless you can get somebody to build," said Deputy Reeve A. A. Cook. "The cost of a small home is around $6,000 right now and it's too high for the average veteran. It would be a millstone around his neck. I would like to see something better worked out for the boys. I saw a housing scheme at Port Hope. I wouldn't like to see the same here."

"We will have to deal with this matter shortly," said Mayor Ross Linton. "I would like to see a 15 or 20-house plan under the national housing act, but I would want to see the veterans getting value for their money." "We might consider designating a trailer area in town," said Councillor R. V. Smith. "It may well be that for married couples with no children trailers will be used to solve the housing problem. We would have to provide sanitary and washing facilities."

"There's no demand right now. We'll have to think of that only when we are faced with requests," said Councillor A. N. Fisher.

When sidewalk estimates were considered, the streets committee plan for new sidewalks on the north side of Wellington St. between Victoria and Wells, and on Connaught Ave. were approved.

"I believe new houses should be served with sidewalks as soon as possible rather than repair sidewalks which serve fairly well," said Mayor Linton. "I know the repairs are needed but it's not much encouragement to those building new homes unless we co-operate."

TENNIS CLUB HAILS TOURNAMENT VICTORS

First pre-war champions at the Aurora tennis club are Miss Constance Willis, Keith Davis and Pat Davies. The first two are repeats from former years, the latter a first-year winner.

Miss Willis defeated Mrs. Margaret Davis of Newmarket in the ladies' final, 6-4, 6-4. Both turned in grand games. Miss Willis' effort being particularly good considering her lack of practice.

Keith Davis mastered Warren "Wink" Barnard in a stirring match that saw the ex-airman battle from behind to win in two straight. The scores were 6-2, 6-4.

Fifteen-year-old Pat Davies took the club men's intermediate title with a battling display against his older opponent, Harold Lubbock. Pat, who had lost valiantly in resurrecting the club courts, seemed to know every angle on the courts. The scores were 6-3, 6-5.

A fair sized gallery was on hand for the occasion.

Legion Carnival Goes With A Bang Despite Cold Wind

With a crowd estimated at 3,000 at its peak and with an estimated 5,000 visitors during the day, Aurora branch 385, Canadian Legion, put the first annual field day and jamboree over with a bang on the holiday. Events were kept to schedule and the crowd had something to keep it amused at all times.

Feature of the morning was a five-mile cycling race with honors from a field of 20 riders going to Clifford Chapman, Alliston, former ace rider of the Aurora club. Cliff negotiated the course in 14.21 minutes closely pursued by Bob Benville, Newmarket, another Aurora favorite. Cliff Heath and Orla Larson were prominent among the newer riders to make their debut. Two nine-year-olds, Murray Chapman and John Offord, Jr., received special prizes for finishing.

In a morning softball fixture, Aurora ladies defeated Schomberg, champions of South Simcoe, 10-2. The Aurora team played its best ball of the year. Whitehouse and Myke formed the Aurora battery with Graham and Cosby the losing battery. Charlie Case and Red Canning handled the game.

A baseball game between Aurora midgets and Acton resulted in a 10-3 win for Aurora. The contest was tied until the fifth inning when Aurora forged ahead. Stundon was the winning pitcher for Aurora.

Aurora softballers with the addition of Bill Bowen, Lansing, swept to a thrilling triumph in the men's softball tournament, defeating Lake Simcoe All-Stars 1-0 while No. 1 R.C.A.F. was eliminating Newmarket Vets 5-1. In the final Aurora defeated the Airmen 3-2.

The horseshoe pits were going steadily all day. The doubles honors went to Norman and Doug Burns, Richmond Hill. Singles title went to D. L. Stover, Stouffville, with H. Glendenning, Stouffville, second.

A large number of special events for children kept the youngsters busy and there were plenty of prizes for the entrants. The midway saw the fishpond and pony ride completely swamped by eager kids. Bingo and refreshments kept going from 10 a.m. until after midnight while the wide variety of other games were well patronized.

Aurora Boys' Band made a short afternoon appearance to the delight of the crowd. Clown Bob Redfern kept the fun parade going all afternoon. One of the most popular events proved to be the archery display featuring John R. Mitchell and ten-year-old Dickie Mitchell.

A two-hour variety show featuring the Victory Entertainers with O. E. Klink, Toronto, as master of ceremonies attracted a large audience despite cool evening weather and proved to be one of the big crowd pleasers.

Seven entries were received for the beauty contest and Chairman Dr. C. R. Boulding and Judges Mrs. Norman Bretz, John Barker and William Kettlewell, along with the audience, were all set for a keen contest. Motor trouble kept two away, two others failed to show and the cool breezes kept the other entrants from going on. Result was no beauty contest.

Don Gilkes and his orchestra provided the dance music in front of the high school and there was a good crowd despite other attractions and the weather.

President John Sisman drew the prizewinners: vacuum cleaner, Sandra Stouff, Aurora; vacuum cleaner, William Duff, Aurora; tri-lite lamp, Marion Cook, Aurora; fog light, Arthur Saint, Bradford; toastmaster, A. E. Bulpit, Bradford. Winners who have not as yet received their prizes may do so at Central Cleaners.

Other prizewinners during the day were: Oldest lady on grounds, 92-year-old Mrs. Harriet Chapman, Aurora; oldest man on grounds, 85-year-old George Banbury, Aurora; puppy draws, William Cameron, Aurora; Master Carter Knowles, Toronto;

Wagon race: Billy Wray, Ronald Chapman, Harold Brooks; tricycle race, David Dodge; veterans World War I race: Arthur Heaton, Gormley; Joseph Smith, Aurora; G. Gray, Toronto; veterans World War 2: Gar Doolittle, Aurora; Hugh Main, Newmarket; Stan Evans, Newmarket;

To Present, Dedicate Colors At Legion Rite

NEW ELECTION DATE FAVORED BY COUNCIL

Next Sunday afternoon will see an impressive ceremony in Aurora town park when the new colors of Aurora Branch 385, Canadian Legion, will be officially presented to the branch by the donors, the Aurora Fire Brigade, and consecrated at divine service.

Fire Chief Harry Jones will make the presentation at 3 p.m. and the colors will be received by President John Sisman of the local branch. Hon. Capt. A. H. Downer, M.P.P. of Duntroon and Batteaux, who served as a padre in Italy and France, will be the guest speaker. Taking part in the dedication ceremony will be Hon. Major Arthur Waring, Canadian Legion Services, a veteran of both wars, and Hon. Capt. R. K. Perdue of Aurora, the branch chaplain.

The service is open to the public and all veterans, and veterans wishing to parade with the Aurora branch, are invited to fall in at the rear of Aurora high school at 2.30 p.m. It is hoped that members of the Canadian Legion branches at Richmond Hill, Newmarket, and Mount Albert will be present in large numbers.

Following the service the salute will be taken by Warden Frederick G. Gardiner, K.C., reeve of Forest Hill Village.

A special initiation ceremony for those engaged in night work, and others who have been unable to be present at a regular meeting, will be held at 1.30 p.m. in Aurora high school. Those who have filed application and have not as yet been initiated, and any other veterans desiring to join branch 385, are requested to be present on this occasion.

Here are the opinions of the members of council: Reeve C. E. Sparks: "Most councils in York county and elsewhere are elected early in December. We should fall in line."

Deputy-Reeve Asa Cook: "It will be a big help to county council representatives. They will know where they stand early in December, and can make their plans accordingly. It will also give the new council plenty of time to know what they are doing."

Dr. Crawford Rose: "I am heartily in favor of the idea. I believe it should be early in December."

A. N. Fisher: "If it can be arranged in plenty of time and the public approves, we should make the change."

Stewart Patrick: "It will take the election out of the holiday season, and it will help business men and the public too. I favor early December."

R. V. Smith: "I believe there will be more interest shown generally. If it is advisable elsewhere, it should apply locally."

Elwood Davis: "Weather conditions will be better early in December, and the holiday season can be enjoyed by all without interruptions. I think we should advance the date."

Councillor William West, who was not present, had previously announced his approval of the plan.

ALOUETTES ARRIVE FOR PRE-GAME STOP

Montreal Alouettes football club, some 40 strong, arrived in town this morning. The team was welcomed by Mayor Ross Linton and Dr. E. J. Henderson, president of the Aurora Board of Trade. The team worked out twice today and will hold two practices on Friday. It leaves for Toronto Saturday for its game against Toronto Argonauts.

At Winnipeg the team broke even in its games against Winnipeg Blue Bombers, and coach Lou Hayman is optimistic as to Saturday's outcome.

A group of Aurora business men are entertaining at a theatre party and supper for the team this evening.

The presence of the Montreal team has created considerable excitement in town especially among the youngsters, who are all eyes for the Big Four football stars.

DOWN THE CENTRE

By AB. HULSE

Got a big kick last week in being honored with a bid to ump the final series of the Barrie (Centre Simcoe) softball circuit. It marked the third straight year for yours truly, and when you can make it three in a row, by request, even the Hulse chest can be pardoned if it swells a bit. Did the job with Harry Sutton on the bases and our old pal, Ken Gullfoyle, pitched C.N.R. to the title over Orphans.

It looked like old home week with some of the better known ball players in action. For instance, Orphans had Wes Perry, ex-Aurora town league hurler, Steve Hines, and his brother, "Moe" of Barrie Collegians, Fred Norris, ex-Aurora, and Red Laking, the two top outgardeners of the early 40's in the York-Simcoe league.

With C.N.R. were Moe Strassman (Roxy Aces), Archie Marshall (Allandale Imperials), Bud Kashner (Imperials), and Earl Marshall (Barrie Collegians). Quite a collection, and when you add secretary Doug Hedger and all the rest it looks like an old boys reunion.

Ask Sutton how the ball compares with the North Yonge league and he'll tell you, as we have before, that the best down here is still below par with the lads in Simcoe county. On Wednesday and Saturday, maestro Harry Couse left his native Cookstown to toss two fine wins for Barrie over Owen Sound in intermediate "A". We're sorry to say Couse couldn't appear in Monday's tournament at Aurora, as it was originally hoped. Our regrets to the lacrosse laddies at Woodbridge who gave us a bid to referee the lacrosse matches in that centre on the holiday. We haven't blown a whistle down south this year but hope to get one in before it's all over.

Harmony, 'tis said, is fast vanishing from the ranks of the Woodbridge lacrosse team. When the league hand-picked a team to enter the O.L.A. intermediate series, it only included six Woodbridge players. Net result was that Bill Cox, the nifty netminder, Bill Norton, top scorer in the league, and one of the Ireland boys refused to play without their mates. They wanted to get the North York series over first. In fact, they weren't worried about the O.L.A. series. The selects who played against Inglewood, the Peel county champs, included: goal, Harry Rumble, Maple; def., Bruce Wark, Combines, and Al Orr, Maple; rover, Cleve Burton, Combines; centre, Harry Burton, Combines; home, Hugh Kerr, Combines; Son Rowntree, Woodbridge; Ray Thompson, Maple; Jimmy Jones, Maple; Remi Ireland, Woodbridge; Ray Castator, Woodbridge; and Gordy Orr, Maple. That's a pretty fair squad as maestroed by president Rowntree but hardly the strongest in the league. We'll have a bit more to say on that later.

The play-offs in the intermediate series find Sarnia vs. Owen Sound; Brantford Indians vs. Orillia; Huntsville vs. Midland; Orangeville, Scarboro, Fergus and Peterborough are in there some place and we think a club from St. Kitts will also be in action. If the "Woodbridge" entry got past Inglewood this week, we're due to see some mighty sweet games with Aurora arena as the likely and logical locale. The first game went to Inglewood, 10-8, as the Peel county champions turned on the heat against the "All-Stars."

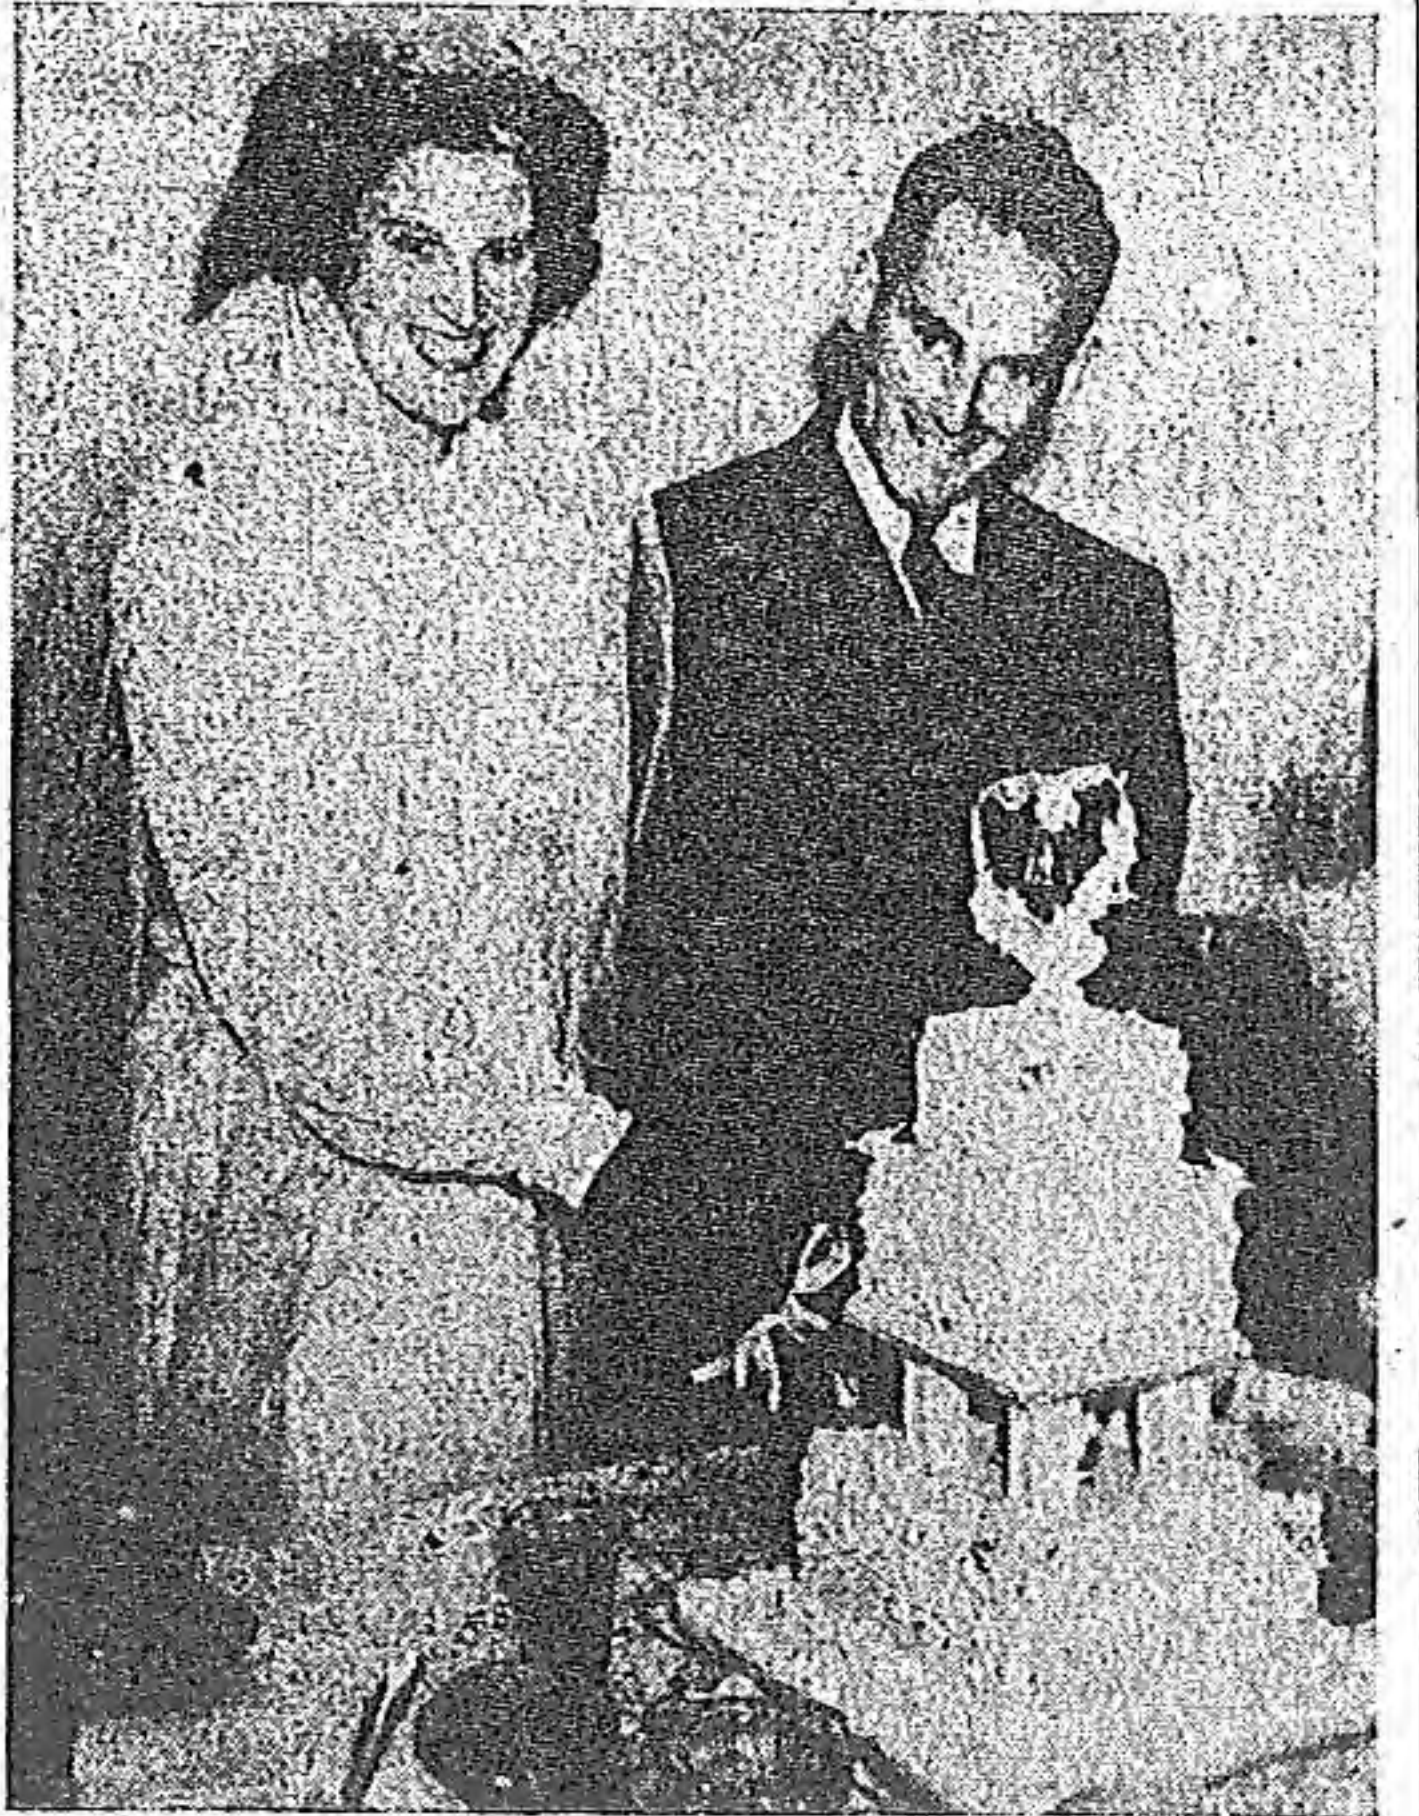

Bing Caswell finished his playground duties last week and started the old grind again on Tuesday as a high school teacher at Bloor Collegiate. Bing (his right moniker is Bingham) expects to concentrate on his work and forsake the playing end. But don't be surprised if you see him in action in the mercantile league. He was in Newmarket last week calling on friends and putting the bee on Bert Morrison for a shirt. Incidentally, Caswell is the nephew of George Dudley of Midland, the big C.H.A. and O.H.A. mogul.

The same day, we got a big lift as we saw the friendly smile and received a hearty handshake from Chart Holmes, ex-Newmarket sports impresario, and still one of sport's genuine noblemen. Charlie follows things pretty closely in canaltown, but admits he has interests at Stratford, St. Catharines, and now, Hamilton. He spent his holidays at Lake Simcoe but refused to reveal the fish caught. He hurried home on Saturday to see Hamilton and St. Kitts hook up on the third game of their senior series. Everyone in the Holmes menage is a lacrosse fan. "I'd like to see the game revived in Newmarket," says Charlie. "I'm glad to see Aurora, Richmond Hill and the rest taking an interest in Canada's national game. There's none better."

Here's a challenge from Charlie. "Surely somebody in the district should be interested enough to donate a trophy for the midge lacrosse league. If nobody in North York is prepared to give one, call on me. I won't see the boys stuck." That's a mighty fine offer. How about it?

Another protest has cropped up in the current junior play-off series between Newmarket and Stouffville. Secretary W. J. Snyder ruled out the first game, won by Stouffville, on the technical grounds that Tommie Forgie of Markham wasn't signed in time. It was a hard ruling to make, but the O.B.A. says it gave Stouffville every leeway in signing players, and it has been enforcing the rules strictly this season. It did make for a bit of hard feeling and certainly deprived Stouffville of a player the team needed badly.

As you are all aware, last Saturday, George Haskett took his boys over to Stouffville for a replay of the first game, and barely won out by one run with a late rally. According to Stouffville, Gar Doolittle en route to first base, kicked the batted ball which would automatically make him out. As a matter of fact, Gar says "I don't know whether or not I touched the ball." The base umpire from Stouffville waved Doolittle out but the umpire-in-chief, Bob Bell, overruled this verdict and left Doolittle on first. It was a mighty costly ruling, for it would have made two out, and the side would subsequently but the Newmarket boys were tired after that previous nine-inning loss in Newmarket earlier in the afternoon, and a bit down in spirits too, we thought. At least we know they can play better than they did. Their co-operation was greatly appreciated by the Aurora committee and the fans at the tournament.

Sorry to say we missed the big "serious" with New Toronto Legion. The Lakeshore boys must have a nice team. They blanked Newmarket two games in a row, 5-0 and 10-0, and that's a record to shoot at. The loss was a disappointment to the many followers of the vets. It's nearly a regular occurrence in O.S.A. playdowns for the Lakeshore district representatives to dust off Newmarket when they are drawn in opposition.

The Vets can be proud, however, of their seasons' record to date. They have won 30 games and lost ten over the year. They still have to play off for the Joe Spillette Cup. As yet nobody seems able to say who will provide the opposition. It looks as if it will be either Aurora or Thornhill. The last reports had North York A.C. in the running as a result of a four-point win over Langstaff. Then it was rumored Langstaff was finished for the year, which would automatically put Aurora in a play-off berth. Perhaps George Kelson and his executive will have the matter straightened out by the time you read this. Better hurry up gang for the daylight is fast vanishing and standard time will soon be back with us again.

Red Canning, popular and durable athlete of the Aurora R.C.O.C. depot, left this week for his home in Halifax and discharge. Sgt. Canning was a clever performer at hockey and one of the better players on this year's R.C.O.C. team. Here for several years, he grew to be regarded as a native son and he'll be missed by all who knew him. Good luck, keed!

Marlboro's juniors, from the B series of the O.H.A., will make Richmond Hill arena their home this winter. That means that the Hill will drop back to minor competition in the district with possibly an intermediate team. While there's nothing on the surface to indicate it, it looks as if there will be a Hill-Marlboro tie-up for some years to come.

It will be recalled that John Sullivan, originally of the Hill, and Bobby Hassard, another Hill performer, both moved up to junior A last winter with the Hill. This season, marked for a trial with the Marlies and likely to make the grade to the Bob Davidson-Harold Ballard junior squad are Normie Stenden, a fine netminder with three years junior experience at 17, Macie Clement, the bashing, speedy defenceman, and Herbie Rose, rugged blueline defender. This trio, with the proper coaching, should make the jump upwards without too much trouble. Other Hill and district lads, 'tis said, will be given every opportunity to make the Marlboro B team. It looks like Jimmy Grainger and the lads down south have cooked up a good deal. This will give Grant Nighswander and his associates a chance to concentrate on the kids from bantam to juvenile.

Barrie has cooked up an affiliation with Eddie Shore's teams at Buffalo, Dallas and Houston and will have the latter two teams in next month for training on artificial ice. There are a flock of Northern Ontario players headed towards Barrie this year for the junior A series.

Scotty Mair expects to report to the Leafs camp at Kingston in early October and this year, if spirit means anything, he hopes to stay up in big time. I wonder whatever happened to that communique addressed to the C.H.A. and O.H.A. on behalf of the Aurora junior hockey arena this winter. Combines, who won the Richmond Hill mercantile hockey league last winter with a fine team, may seek a place in the Aurora mercantile league next winter. They weren't very happy with arrangements last winter at Richmond Hill and, of course, they know Aurora to be a better rink. President Herb Holman and his associates will probably be very happy to see Combines join the Aurora league.

John Stuart has purchased a new timbortopper called Kennebunk for $5,000. This gives him a fine trio of horses for the steeplechase with Rice Cake and Art School. Stuart won two races at Stamford last week as Timely Flight and Chippy won feature events.

Earl Rowe did a fair chore for himself on the holiday, sending Van Riddell down in front in three straight heats for a purse of $3,500. The 3-year-old futurity trot and the futurity pace have placed harness racing in the van among track follow-ers. The present year has probably seen more people watching the trotters and pacers than ever before in Canada. What price the Newmarket race track, and Lorne Cousins' track at Aurora? Properly handled they could amount to small gold mines.

DOUBLE WEDDING UNITES FAMILY

The spacious lawn of Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks, Mount Albert, was the scene of a pretty double wedding when their daughters, Jean Evelyn and Lillian Elizabeth, were united in marriage to the Burns brothers, Ross Thomas and George Martin, sons of Mr. Burns and the late Mrs. Burns of Pickering.

Rev. Mr. Marshall performed the marriage ceremony under an evergreen arch interwoven with colorful gladioli. The wedding music was played by Mrs. Cooper, and the brides looked charming as they walked down the pathway, bordered by baskets of beautiful autumn blooms. They wore white jersey floor-length gowns and sweetheart coronets from which fell finger-tip lace veils.

Both brides wore gold lockets, gifts of the grooms, and carried sheaves of red roses and babies' breath.

The attendants, Mrs. Clinton Prouse and Mrs. Russell Hicks, were similarly attired in pink net over angel-skin and carried nosegays of white gladioli, roses and pink roses. Mr. Clinton Prouse and Mr. Carl Burns were groomsmen. Mrs. James Oldham sang "I'll Walk Beside You."

The mother of the brides, charmingly gowned in black flowered silk with white corsage and accessories, received assisted by Miss Marie Burns, sister of the grooms, who wore a lovely American Beauty velvet gown with a yellow corsage and matching hat.

A buffet luncheon was served on the lawn to the many guests after which the brides changed to similar travelling costumes, loganberry red dressmaker suits with black accessories.

The happy couples left for motor trips throughout Ontario and will reside in Greenwood and Pickering on their return.

News On Recreation

By MICKEY SMITH

Friday afternoon, as we sat in the council chambers with some of our young helpers, getting the books in order, a stranger from out of town came in under the impression that the magistrate's court was in session there. When he learned of the work being done in Newmarket, he offered his congratulations. "The last time I was in this room, the children there were being tried in court as delinquents," he said.

We don't know how many people in Newmarket were aware that there was a circus in town last Friday, but we sent two of our young helpers over to 13 Millard Ave. to get the dope on it and this is what they found out. The circus was called the Barnum and Bailey circus and was organized by Jimmy Taylor. There was an attendance of 20 and featured a lion (Don Larsen) a lion tamer, (Bob Taylor), and clown (Shirley Bennett).

Held in the Taylor's back yard, the children put on quite a show. Besides the circus, the children sold used comic books, and had a ring toss. The prizes were comic books and yo-yos, and whistles. The show lasted for nearly an hour and was reported by Elaine Robinson and Peggy Calvert.

Skating. This seems early in the year to call a ski meeting but a meeting was held in the council chambers Friday with an attendance of 20 to 30 enthusiasts. George Phimister was elected president with Bob Spear as vice-president, and Beverley Bartholomew as secretary-treasurer. Trails committee: Harold Patterson, Ark Peppiatt, Cliff Bell, Howard Hugo, and D. Rose; membership committee, V. Thompson, J. Bothwell, M. Spear, H. Gilroy, L. Bell; transportation and advertising, George Byers, T. Scott, A. Evans, M. Bailie; entertainment, B. Spear, Helen Rose, Audrey Hilliard, Del. Gibney.

Indoor soccer. We are anxious to start an indoor soccer league for industry and hope to have a meeting this coming week. If anybody is interested in this kindly let us know as soon as possible.

Lacrosse. We want to get a town league going as we have the necessary equipment on hand. All that is needed by the players is running shoes, and your own shoulder pads, if you have them. We have been talking to some of the old lacrosse players, and they will help the boys learn the game.

Badminton. Quite a few people would like to see the badminton club active again. If some of you people will let me know when you want to have a meeting, I will arrange the date and send out letters to those interested.

Table tennis. This is an interesting game and it should be going right now. How about a league? We can make the arrangement for a place to play if you will meet with me to form a league.

Volley ball. This is a game for every member of the family and a good way for the parents to enjoy the evenings in the fall with their children. The expense of playing most of these games is very small so how about mothers and dads forming a league to play against sons and daughters.

Marjorie (Mrs. Wallace Harmon), and Robert.

The funeral service was held in Keswick United church on Saturday. Interment in Queensville cemetery.

Wright—At Keswick, on Tuesday, Sept. 3, 1946, Mary Travis, widow of the late George Wright, in her 73rd year, mother of William, George, Archie and Oscar.

The funeral service was held from the Strasser Funeral Home, Queensville, today. Interment in Queensville cemetery.

COUPLE WED AT QUEENSVILLE

Queensville United church was the scene of a pretty wedding Aug. 31 when Marie Jean Baisdon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Baisdon, Queensville, was married to Eldred John Turner, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Turner, Toronto, by Rev. Howard King. Mrs. Jack Baisdon was organist and Miss Ruby Strasser was soloist.

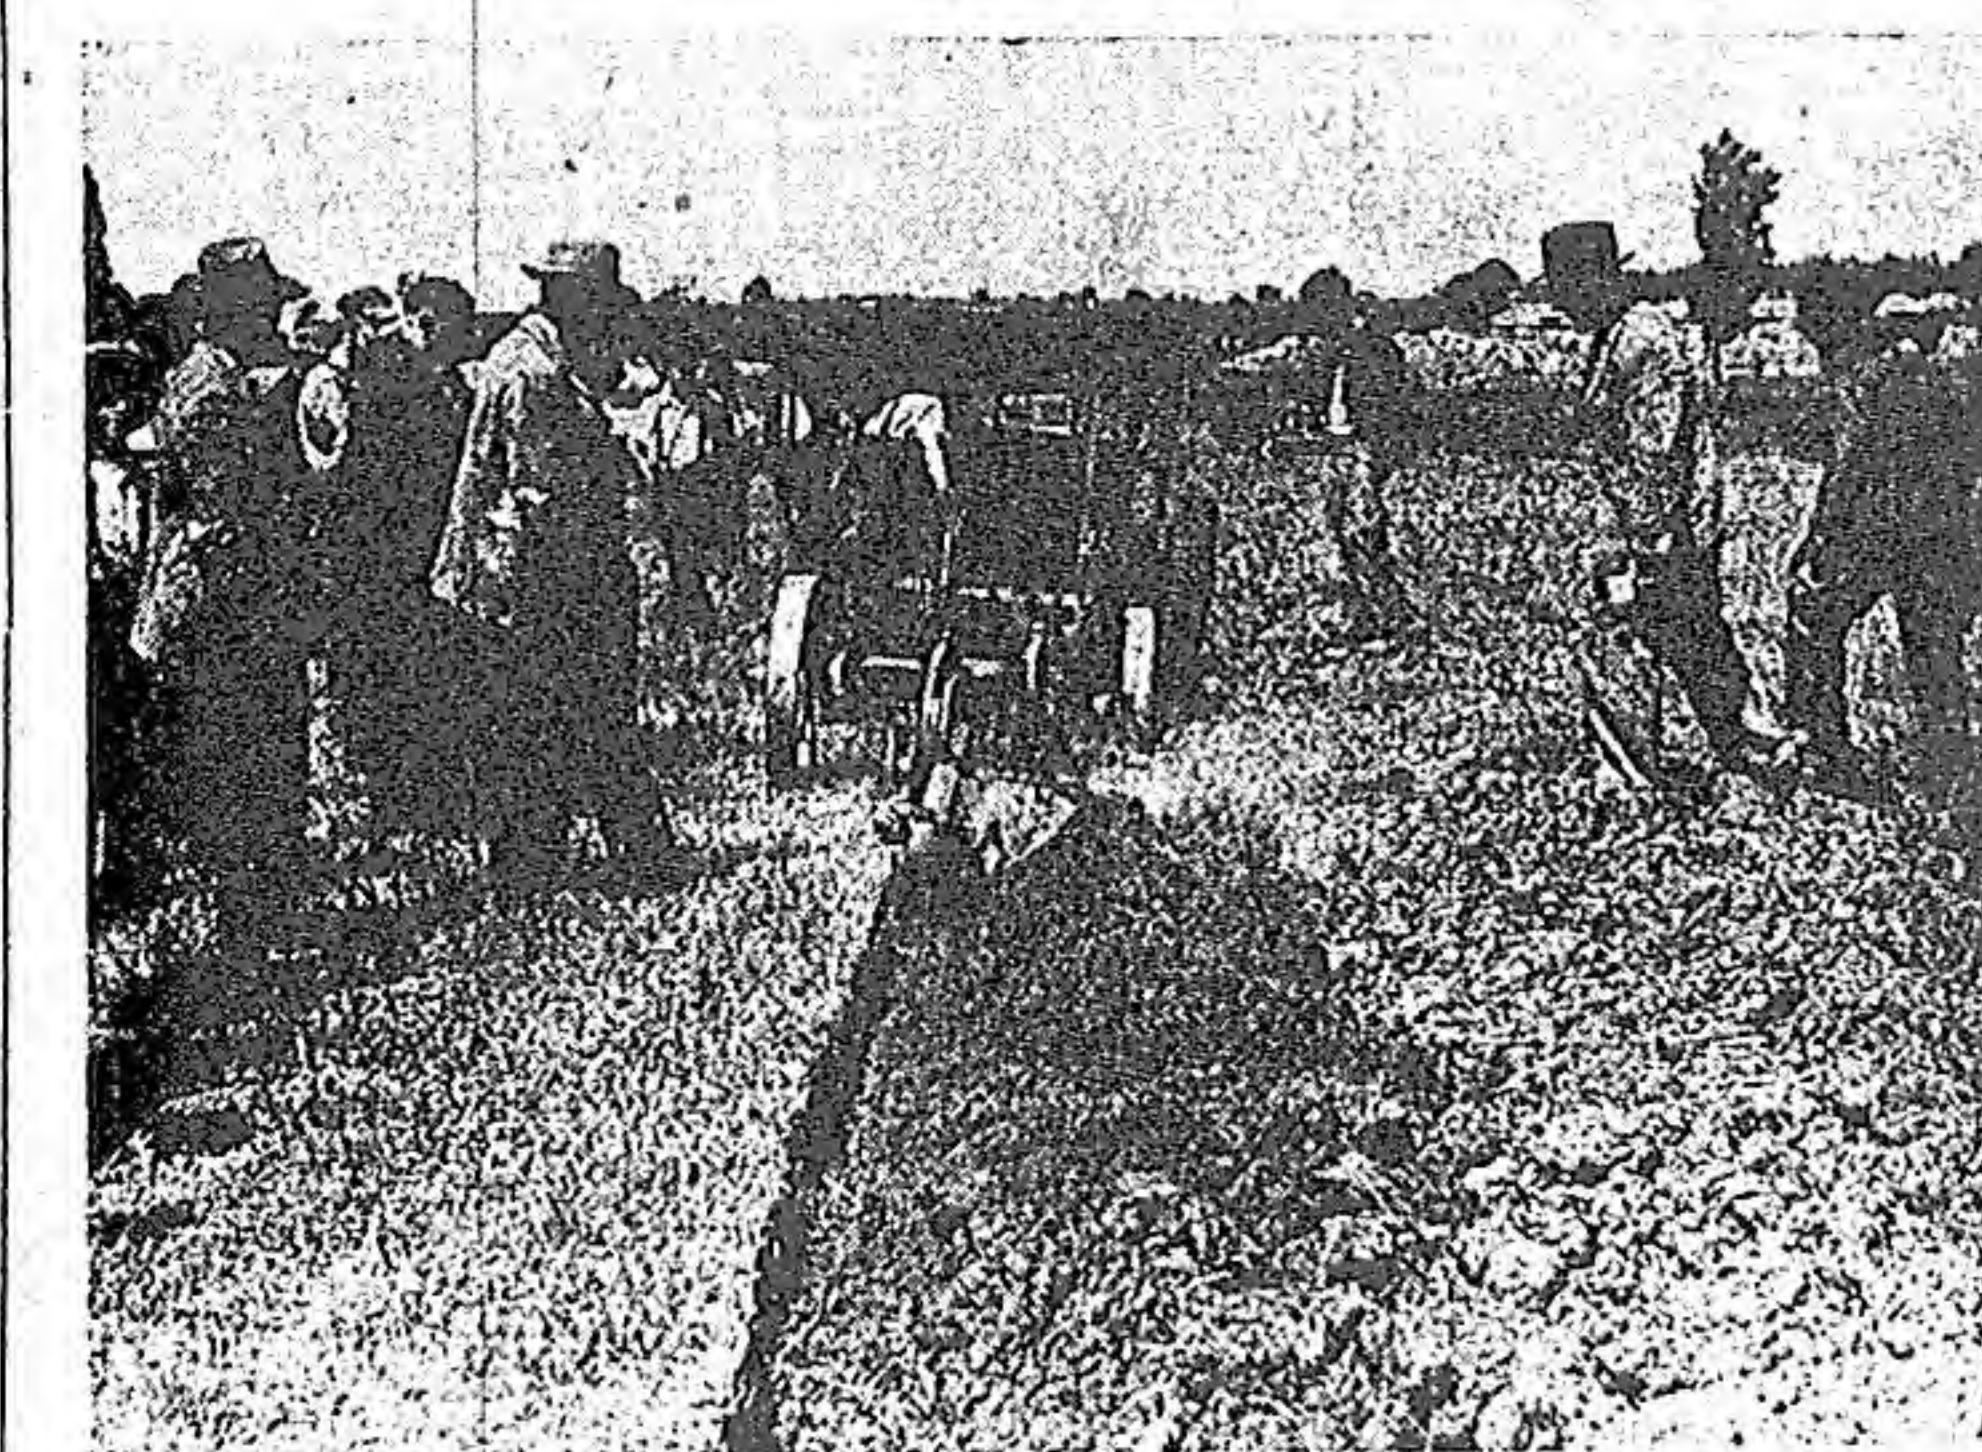

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a blush satin gown cut on princess lines with train, and floor-length veil falling from a headdress of Queen Victoria lace. Her flowers were roses and baby's breath. Misses Margaret Cooner, a cousin of the bride, and Lois Baisdon, a sister, were bridesmaids in fuchsia crepe and mits with headdress of fuchsia plumes. Flowers were gladioli.

Best man was Mr. Lyle Bender, and the ushers were Messrs. Jack Baisdon and Johnny Nicol. At the reception held in the basement of the church, the bride's mother received in blue jersey with black accessories, and the groom's mother in wine crepe with black accessories. For travelling, the bride wore a pink wool dress with black accessories. Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside in Toronto.
